USE LEAF AS A STIMULANT.

How Coca is Cultivated—Preventive of Sleep and Fatigue.

Coca is the South American invigorant. The shrub from which the coca leaves are obtained grows under favorable conditions to a height of about four meters. It is cultivated in Peru and Bolivia.

At the time the crop is gathered the seeds are sown in beds, when they germinate and grow, and in two months the growing plants reach a height of about a foot. The leaves, grown in the proper sunlight and shade, are yellowish, small and thick.

This is the kind of leaf that is preferred for chewing by persons using the leaf as a stimulant, fortifier and preventive of sleep and fatigue in the performance of arduous work, inasmuch as they prevent rheumatism, from which miners suffer when working in mines that contain much water. Indians who masticate the leaves of this plant can work 24 hours without eating or sleeping.

Coca leaves are used by the natives when engaged in long and fatiguing journeys and by soldiers when subject to hardships and privations. They may be used with all kinds of food and are said to cure dyspepsia, either taken as an infusion in the shape of tea or by masticating the leaves. The life of the plant when perfect is 80 years.

FUN IS A VITAL NECESSITY.

Can by No Means Be Regarded as an Incidental of Life.

Most people have the impression that fun and humor are life incidents, not necessities; that they are luxuries and have no great bearing upon one's career.

Many think of fun as frivolous, indicating lack of serious purpose in life. There are parents who rebuke their children because they want to have fun and go in for a good time. These parents have yet to learn the great part which fun and humor play in the physical economy, and their influence on the life.

What a complete revolution in your whole physical and mental being comes after seeing a really funny play! You want to the play tired, jaded, wornout, discouraged. All your mental faculties were clogged with brain ash; you could not think clearly. When you came home you were a new being.—Success Magazine.

Quaint Death Notice.

This notice appeared recently in a German paper: "Bowed with grief and recognizing the wisdom of God, who decreed it, the widow and four children of Hartwig Langmann make known to their relatives and friends the entry into eternal rest of a beloved husband and father. There will be no oration at his bier, because no words could describe his worth or make our sorrow less. Flowers from those who share our grief should not be sent, because the custom was distasteful to him who has gone. If a desire to show such a mark of respect exists let it find expression in gifts to the poor, whose thanks we shall echo in the firm knowledge that the act would find favor with him whose life was goodness."

A Republican Year.

Col. Richard C. Kereas, one of the Republican candidates for U. S. Senator to succeed Senator Stone, delivered an address before the Missouri Republican Club, of Kansas City, last Tuesday evening. He spoke, in part, as follows:

"Gentlemen, this is a Republican year. Our great Republican army in Missouri, 300,000 strong, is united, and it demands that the union be continued. It demands unselfish loyalty to the party's best interests. There is no reason for dissensions, but every reason for every individual Republican to do his full duty in this campaign, so that when the sun goes down on the afternoon of November 3, with this motto, 'Unity,' it will be found that the Republican party has elected its ticket and then will begin the administration by Republicans in Missouri, and this state will have joined the proud sisterhood of Republican states of the nation, prosperity will continue and move us on to a glorious future.

"I have, after mature deliberation, declared my candidacy for the United States senate, and will submit my name to be voted on by the Republicans of Missouri upon my own merits. I am in no combination with any individual or number of individuals. I did not submit my name before the primary of Aug. 4, because I did not think it would be right or fair to interfere to that extent in issues purely local, which existed in almost every county in Missouri. Now, gentlemen it is the right of every citizen of Missouri to declare his candidacy for the United States senate, to be voted on at the general election in November. Honest opposition and upright rivalry is the laudable privilege of every citizen, but judging from the tone and temper of Republicans in the counties I have just been in, woe to the man who under any pretext shall seek to sow the seed of dissension within the ranks of the Republican party in this campaign."
